My opinion: Bill Gates and Microsoft have created thousands of jobs, hundreds of millionaires and have improved US industry and government. There is a lot of competition out there and anyone could surge ahead. There's an old saying that if a person could build a better mousetrap the world would beat a way to his doorstep. That's what Bill Gates has done, and now they're trying to hang him for producing that better mousetrap. Antitrust laws should be abolished. They don't protect the consumer who can always go elsewhere, they just destroy all those good mousetraps.
